I joined the School of Education Terrace campus in April 2011, by this time the department was half way into their 3rd cohort. One of the greatest things I witnessed was seeing the student's transformation, this slow evolution into a professional teacher, yet each of them very different. One theme however, seemed to be transparent amongst them all. They had drive for optimal yet distinct instruction, their empathy was true and they tended to each other. I am proud of the faculty & students each time I hear a compliment on the program. I know how hard each instructor works with the cohort individually and as a group, always carving this educational sometimes unseen path. I also know how accepting and adapting our students are and how hard each of them work to follow this path. I am excited to be a part of our 10 year achievements!

School of Education Update November 1, 2016

Our Education 490 students are in the last week of their practicums and are working with their Cooperating Teachers, and Faculty Associates to complete all their requirements.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the teachers, administrators, and students of the following schools for making our students welcome and a part of their school communities: Thornhill Primary School, Uplands School, Suwilaawks, Skeena Middle School, Thornhill Elementary School, Haisla School, Nisga'a Elementary/Secondary School and Mount Elizabeth Middle Secondary School. A special thank you to the Cooperating Teachers for their support and mentorship of the UNBC teacher candidates.

We will be working with our School Districts to find placements for the final practicum placement for Education 491. This final practicum begins February 6, 2016.
